Approach To Learning

Overview: Quiet, thorough and attentive to detail; Janet is steady paced and hates making mistakes. She is amiable but not social. She is shrewd and will ask you for time to get things right.

Concentration: Janet likes the security of knowledge. She is conscientious and likes to complete tasks thoroughly and exactly.

Time management: Janet likes time to finish things; tasks are analysed and precise. She is methodical; things will be thoroughly thought through.

Working in groups: Janet is courteous, diplomatic and calm. She likes to be part of a specialist group. Works quietly and consistently.

Detail and research: Janet listens well and asks serious questions. She will appreciate revision tips and the reassurance that she does not need to know everything to succeed.

Following guidelines: Janet follows instructions very well and should be easy to teach. She usually displays good timing and appreciates confirmation of tasks in writing.

Pioneering: Janet will dispassionately weigh up the available data before making a decision. She looks for tidy solutions and is painstaking in approach.

Creativity/Originality: She is serious minded preferring a quiet stable environment. She will be creative within your guidelines.

Response to authority: Janet will avoid upsetting people and is respectful of authority. She will appreciate sincere support.

Switch on learning activities: Janet takes work seriously. Always clarify in writing, explaining tasks and including the details. She will need the help to understand that her best is actually good enough.

Switch off learning by... Being flippant. Janet may not forgive or forget off the cuff remarks.

Subjects: Janet is likely to be interested in Medicine, the Sciences, Drama, Food Technology and Nursing.

Janet will respond well to the following strategies: Modelling, giving examples of how things work, researching technical data, listening to lectures and E learning.
