Hi Colin

Thank you for doing your footprint form online.

We use your answers to build up a profile that you can use to sort out feelings and help you work to achieve your goals.

Your Style: You are a friendly and helpful person who likes to feel involved, which means that you like to be friends with everyone.

Likes: Looking on the bright side, getting along with people and talking about ideas.

Dislikes: Boring details; pushy people and admitting that you might be wrong.

What motivates you: You like the freedom to experience a wide range of new things. When you learn new things you like to be able to practice them straight away. You like to achieve your goals and you are great when people need inspiration.

Things you do well: Staying calm, persuading people that you are right, making a great first impression on people.

Things that stress you out: People who don't explain things and who change things around without asking.

Your personal power: You have the power to persuade people to do the things you want, but use this power wisely or people might think that you are sneaky.

Good skills for you to learn: Remember that it is hard to be friends with everyone; stay true to yourself.

New People: You like meeting new people and can cope well with changes - remember that some people around you will need their own private space.
